

HERE AND THERE IN THE WHIRL OF SOCIETY

Filipino Party Much Feted on American Visit

Women Look Like Great
Bouquets in Native
Dress at Reception

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The White House social season is about over and no more formal parties, garden parties, are scheduled. An occasional Mayflower party, perhaps, of the most informal sort, will be all that is left to the summer plans. President and Mrs. Harding haven't any. They have recently given up their much talked about Alaskan trip. The president doesn't feel that he can take a trip of any length—he has to be away about six weeks after the party of their unless, as he has said, he can take a short one. The president's trip to the coast, meaning Alaska—and then walks off and leaves them with full responsibility for their own shoulders like he did before.

IN NATIVE DRESS.
About the only affair at the White House this week that all bordered the social was the reception of the Harding of the ladies of the Philippine national mission which is being much feted here in Washington. The call will linger long in the memory of the guests, and it is that of Mrs. Harding for the Philippine ladies were their quaint native dress. They looked like a great bouquet of sweet peas in their picturesque costumes of pastel tinted cloth. None of them wore hats and their hair was styled in the fashion of their childhood days when they say that the ladies' sleeves were of such size that they could conceal their shopping in their folds. Mrs. Harding looked unusually well, too, in a blue frock of crepe de chine and tulle.

SHOWN ABOUT BUILDING.
Mrs. Harding showed the visitors over the White House grounds, the state apartments and the executive offices. She said she wanted the president not to miss seeing the president and they did look pretty good. He wore his usual dark blue and white flannel trousers. The president and Mrs. Harding are said to be Mayflower far more frequently than it has been used by any president since its purchase in the Roosevelt administration and which could afford a better or more change from the formal rug in the water with a few congenial and a few hands at cards. There is nothing that President and Mrs. Harding enjoy more than a good card game.

FOREIGN LIONS ALWAYS.
Foreign lions we have with us always. Washington is never without some leader in some other country, here for us to make a fuss over. We had several with us this week; also a few "home-grown" folks came in for a bit of fussing too. The main social events of the week were centered about the Philippine mission who are here trying to persuade congress to make them a free and independent nation. General Casanovic, formerly chief of staff of the French army; Miss Millicent Brownell, daughter of Mrs. Charles Brownell and the late Colonel Brownell, whose engagement to Captain Sidney R. Bailey, naval attaché of the British embassy staff, was announced; and Commander and Mrs. W. G. Galbraith, who are leaving for Washington, or rather have just left.

REPAIRING ISLAND DEBTS.
For a long time a bunch of our representatives went to the Philippines two years ago, this statement of that bunch showed them a royal road time. That same group tried to show the island statesmen a good time when they came to our capital. The first thing they did was to give a luncheon and dance at the Columbia Country club. Then many of the same members of congress were present at the dinner of some one hundred covers given by James De Veyra, Philippine commissioner, and his wife at Wardman Park hotel. Among the guests were the speaker of the house and Mrs. Gillett, several of our senators and representatives and their wives. Mrs. Gillett looked unusually well that evening. She is one of the smartest dressers in Washington.

GENERAL ENTERTAINMENT.
Among those who tried to show a good time was a group of French officers. Colonel Dupont, military attaché of the French embassy, had a dinner party for the noted general and his family. General Pershing and General Charles G. Dawes were there. The French ambassador and Mme. Jusserand gave a luncheon for their distinguished countryman and their guests. Included the secretary of the treasury, few generals, both American and French, and the embassy staff.

LAWN PARTY HAS TOUCH OF NOVELTY

A novel lawn party was given when Ogden school teachers took part in a mock wedding at the home of Mrs. Mark Cram, 755 Twenty-third street, Wednesday evening in honor of Earl Dasher, who left for California Thursday evening. The evening was spent in playing cards until the last hour, when the guests were informed that they were to be present at a mock wedding. After the "ceremony" was performed, refreshments were served by Misses Lorraine G. Dawes, Evelyn Critch and Margaret Olesman.

MISS HELEN RICH WEDS G. D. MOYLE OF SALT LAKE

Miss Helen Rich, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ezra C. Rich of this city, and Gilbert Dinwoody Moyle, son of Dr. and Mrs. James H. Moyle of Salt Lake, were married Tuesday at noon in the Salt Lake temple, President Heber J. Grant performing the ceremony.

Following this a wedding breakfast was given at the home of the bridegroom's parents, 411 East First South street, Salt Lake City, for the near relatives.

In the evening a large reception was given at the home of the bride's parents, 2652 Washington avenue, Ogden.

The house was originally decorated in flowers of the season. The reception room was beautiful in its decorations of tall baskets of Columbia roses and belladonna. A pink and green color scheme was used in the library, sun parlor and living room, pink roses, peonies and ferns adorning them.

The bride was lovely in a gown of white chiffon, trimmed in ermine, and a pearl necklace with a wedding veil caught to the head with ropes of pearls. White roses, lilies of the valley and orchids made up her bouquet.

Mrs. Clarence E. Wright, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She was gowned in rose pink chiffon and carried Cecil Brunner roses.

Maid of honor was Miss Gladys Rich, another sister, who wore a dress of light and dark green chiffon, with silver trimmings. She also carried a bouquet of Cecil Brunner roses.

Miss Rich's little nieces, Jane Wright, Anne Wright and Katherine Wright, dressed in pink, orange and yellow, carried baskets of roses, were flower girls.

Best man was Walter C. Moyle of Washington, D. C., a brother of the bridegroom.

The back lawn, beautifully illuminated with colored electric lights and Japanese lanterns, and screened in green, dotted with tables, which were decorated in roses, Canterbury bells and ferns, was indeed a desirable place to serve the dainty refreshments. Lunch was served in the dining room.

Dr. and Mrs. Rich and the bride party were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. James H. Moyle, Mrs. Henry D. Moyle, Miss Evelyn Moyle, Miss Barbara, Mrs. Mary Sarah Moyle of Salt Lake; Mrs. H. B. Campbell of Logan; Mrs. Mary Brown of Pocatello and Mrs. Edward L. Rich and Mrs. Leroy Pugh.

Miss Rich is a graduate of National Park seminary at Washington, D. C. Mr. Moyle is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania.

They left Thursday morning for a motor trip to Zion national park and the Grand canyon, after which they will spend several weeks at Brighton. They will be at home after August 1 at their new home in Cottonwood, Salt Lake.

Miss Rich entertained fifty friends last Sunday from 2 until 6 o'clock at a touseau tea.

MARION BROWNING POPULAR IN PARIS

Miss Marion Browning, daughter of George E. Browning, of 2723 Washington avenue, who is studying music under Marguerite de Frabode, teacher of St. Michaels, Sybil Sanderson, Mary Gardner, Geraldine Farrar and many other famous artists, and who is one of the most popular young women in the American colony in France, has been entertained extensively during the last three weeks.

Lady Duff Gordon entertained at a dinner party for her during the first part of June, at her country home. Among the interesting guests was the novelist, Elinor Glyn, who is visiting in Paris at the present time.

Another interesting affair at which Miss Browning was a guest, was the musical given by Leo Tecktonius, the eminent American pianist, at his apartment on the Boulevard Flaminio, June 4. The program was given by W. William Hoyl of Philadelphia, who has been studying with Mr. Tecktonius for the past year. Mr. Hoyl gave brilliant readings of Chopin and Debussy. Mme. Yakovlev and M. Bobrovitch of the Imperial Opera of Russia sang several duets and solos in a most delightful manner.

PLEASING LUNCHEON BEFORE DEPARTURE

Mrs. S. E. Heinzelman was hostess at a perfectly appointed luncheon Friday evening at her home, 2247 Adams avenue. Miss Jane Henry, who will leave today for Chicago and other eastern cities, to spend her vacation was the honor guest.

Bowls of roses and Shasta daisies adorned the dining room. A bowl of pink and white roses formed the centerpiece for the dining table, while at either end were pink tapers in crystal candlesticks. Placecards were arranged for the following guests: Miss Mae Branch, Miss Olive Condie, Mrs. J. D. Taylor, Mrs. M. J. Taylor, Miss Mary Heinzelman, the honor guest and the hostess.

SHOWER GIVEN FOR MISS JESSIE MOYES

Mrs. J. A. Edwards was hostess at a Kensington given in honor of her sister, Miss Jessie Moyes, whose marriage to Holton, at her home 763 place, twenty-seventh street.

The rooms were decorated with roses and syringas.

A buffet luncheon was served to 11 guests.

Mrs. Edwards was assisted by her mother, Mrs. R. A. Moyes, Miss Genevieve Moyes and Miss Mary McBride.

Church Unites Miss Carr and Walter W. Wall

Breakfast Served at The Virginia to Party
Of Forty

A pretty wedding was solemnized when Miss Winnifred Margaret Carr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Carr, became the bride of Walter W. Wall, son of Mrs. Mary Wall, Thursday morning at 9 o'clock in the St. Joseph's church, at a nuptial mass.

The ceremony was performed by Monsignor P. M. Cushman, with the Rev. Martin Burke and the Rev. Patrick Maguire assisting.

Miss Catherine Hoyle acted as bridesmaid and Ray Morrissey as best man. Charles Carr, brother of the bride served as acolyte.

During the ceremony Mrs. R. P. Morrissey sang "O Promise Me" and "Ave Maria," and Mrs. J. P. Dinneen sang "Mary, Dearest Mother," with Cecile Ragan at the organ.

The bride wore a beautiful dress of orchid color tulle, with silver-tone ribbon trimmings and a large hat to match. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses, and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid was daintily gowned in a yellow organdie dress and a hat to match and carried roses and sweet peas.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Virginia to forty guests.

After a short honeymoon, they will be at home to their friends at 2359 Porter avenue.

LUNCHEON AT CLUB FOR GIRL GRADUATES

Miss Mary Virginia Matson, assisted by her mother, Mrs. George H. Matson, entertained the class of '22 of the Sacred Heart academy at a delightful luncheon at the Weber club Monday afternoon, June 12.

Pink and white peonies were beautifully arranged for the centerpiece. Placecards especially artistic, painted in colors of American beauty and silver, in honor of the silver jubilee of the Rt. Rev. Joseph S. Glass of Salt Lake, who was patron at the class of '22 were used. Dainty little memory souvenirs were given to each guest.

NOVEL SURPRISE IN PYTHIAN HALL

Something novel in entertainment was attained when the Pythian Sisters surprised the Knights of Pythias at their meeting Monday evening, and gave a burlesque of the D. O. K. K's initiation.

A team of the sisters were carefully drilled to imitate the floor work of the D. O. K. K. team.

The candidate was introduced to the meeting from the depths of a coffin and was made to ride the proverbial goat. Mrs. Lucille Rowett and Miss Luella McCannan sang "The Goat Song."

After the "initiation" ceremonies were over and the team had given a fancy drill, improvised songs were sung.

With the tables beautifully decorated with Shasta daisies and red peonies, a delicious luncheon was served to about one hundred members.

The speakers of the evening were: J. M. McCannan, chancellor, commander of the Ogden lodge of Knights of Pythias; Fred Meunier, Henry Turner, George Hart, Walter Underwood, Josie Van Driel and Lorraine White.
